Our packaging explained...

We have been working hard to deliver quality products that also look great on the shelf. With engaging imagery and bright colours, the Bigjigs brand is eye-catching when displayed in store and our modular box sizes with multiple orientation panels allow many options for merchandising. Our packaging provides you, the retailer with a number of useful selling tools and information:

Safety tested flash and wooden craftsmanship logo feature on all packaging and gives consumers quality assurance and piece of mind

Developmental icons on the front face indicate which skills can be enhanced by playing with this product

Every product has been tested as suitable from a specific age which is clearly visible on all selling faces of the packaging

The features text gives a brief overview of the product and the 'Designed in Great Britain' logo indicates the brand heritage and values

Box contents are clearly detailed here to avoid confusion about what's included inside

Multiple selling faces with different orientations allow more merchandising options in store

Annotations on the back highlight specific product features and an image of the child with the product gives an indication of size

Station Master Sam advises that our wooden railway is compatible with other leading wooden rail brands

Compliance warnings, cleaning instructions, recycling advice and barcodes/batchcodes can be found on the base or back of the packaging.

Look out for the development icons

Learning through play is very valuable and our toys help to provide the stimulation children require to reach developmental milestones. The icons below feature on our packaging to give guidance as to what skills children can learn and develop whilst playing with each toy.

The ability to use your hands skillfully. Products with this icon will help to develop fine motor skills. Examples: Stackers and sorters, Lacing Animals.

Being certain of your abilities whether it is physical challenges or completing a puzzle. Examples: Puzzles, push along toys.

The ability to use different parts of the body together smoothly and efficiently. Products with this icon help to develop gross motor skills. Examples: Push and pull along toys.

Developing recognition of the alphabet, the sounds each letter makes and learning how letters make up words and relate to objects. Examples: Learn to Write, literacy puzzles.

The ability to form pictures and ideas in your mind. This is particularly relevant for toys which require children to 'imagine' themselves in another role. Examples: Dolls, tea sets, tool sets.

Developing recognition of numbers and what that number represents in terms of quantity. Examples: Numeracy puzzles, learn to Write Numbers.

The ability to produce ideas, or to make something new or imaginative. Examples: Building blocks, train sets.

Discovering a relationship between two or more actions or events. Examples: Hammer Bench, rail items, pull alongs.

The ability to find solutions to problems. Examples: Puzzles, stackers & sorters.

The ability to recognise and name shapes. Examples: Sorters, stackers, puzzles.

The ability to think in an ordered way, make judgements and develop processes. Examples: Puzzles, games, stackers.

The ability to recognise and name colours. Examples: Sorters, stackers, puzzles.

Developing sharing and turn taking as well as understanding of social situations and having empathy for others. Examples: Dinner Service, Birthday Cake, games, Village Shop.

The ability to remember and recall information. Examples: Lotto, Times Table Box, fraction puzzles.

Child development and age grading

0-6 months

As babies grow and develop so do their senses. Vision isn't fully developed at birth so bright and contrasting colours really appeal. From 3 months babies start to be able to coordinate grasping and moving objects, exploring textures and putting things in their mouths. From 4 months, babies may start to sit up unaided which allows them to play with toys in a different way.

6-12 months

At this age, babies will become more mobile. Whether its crawling, rolling, shuffling or walking, this opens up a whole new world to explore. Babies will often be teething at this time and so objects are explored through biting and sucking as well as by touching and feeling them. Fine motor skills will also be developed through play such as being able to pick up small objects between the thumb and index finger.

12 months - 2 years

Now, motor skills are continuing to develop. Stacking and sorting toys provide a good way for children to practice their fine motor skills whilst push and pull alongs can be great for improving coordination. Children are able to grasp basic language and number concepts and begin to develop recognition of shapes and colours.

2-3 years

Improving focus and concentration means children may enjoy completing puzzles with larger piece counts (possibly up to 24 pieces). Children often begin to use their imagination to create pretend play scenarios.

3+ years

At this age, coordination often becomes more refined, allowing children to perform more activities successfully and independently. Sharing and turn taking becomes more natural from about 4 years and a developing imagination allows for creative masterpieces and construction challenges!

Walk 'n Ride

First you walk...

The rubberised caster wheels allow for complete 360° freedom of movement whilst preventing slipping and marks on the floor.

Then you ride!

When you can walk and toddle the didicar® Walk 'n Ride becomes a ride on for children up to 3 years.

Quut

Quality toys. Quality time. Anywhere. Anytime.

Quut in a nutshell: We make toys that stand the test of time, inspired by our childhood memories, designed with our children's future in mind. We have always believed that sustainability, togetherness and quality time are an essential mix. And as parents, we also have a total of 24 kids, giving us first-hand experience in poor quality beach toys that offer no emotional connection. So we decided to make our own toys... clever, durable designs that offer fun and beauty for kids and parents to enjoy.

Collapsible, hard-wearing products

Scrunch

Scrunch®

Why we love Scrunch!

- ✓ Multipurpose foldable product
- ✓ Eye catching colours
- ✓ Washable - easy to keep clean
- ✓ Non-toxic, made from silicone
- ✓ Strong & durable - holds shape for years
- ✓ Easy to store and transport

Scrunch offers the ultimate range of collapsible, hard-wearing products, great for use in educational settings.

Easy to store

Scrunch products are made from silicone, which can be folded, rolled and scrunched without impacting its appearance. It will spring back to its original form when unfolded. Great for space saving in small storage cupboards. Our telescopic fishing nets also provide an alternative to storing awkwardly shaped traditional nets! With roll up buckets and retractable nets, pond dipping trips and forest school classes are more plausible.

Hard wearing and strong

Our silicone products are hard wearing and durable. They will not fade if left outside and will maintain their bright bold colours for years. Coupled together with the tested strength of the material, Scrunch products really are made to last. Our balls made from thick silicone are great for playtime or PE and are soft yet durable.

Non-toxic and washable

The non-toxic, child friendly nature of these products makes them perfect for an educational environment. Our silicone products can be rinsed over and over again so that they are suitable for many messy play activities.
